

Erica and Rick Froese and Lillian Forsyth share a conversation during a recent event by the Niagara Supper Club.

Niagara Supper Club wraps up season

BY EDDIE CHAU
STAFF

There is no better way to celebrate the end of a season like dancing into the night.

That's what the Niagara Supper Club did April 22 when the club ended its 2007-2008 season of monthly dinner dances with the "Springtime in Paris" event at St. Vincent de Paul Church Hall. About 100 of the club's members danced into the night with a French flair in the air.

Founded in 1947, The Niagara Supper Club is a Niagara-on-the-Lake-based social club formed by a group of residents as a reason to dine out and meet new friends while entertaining themselves through dancing and live music.

The club organizes seven monthly gatherings from October through April.

Niagara Supper Club's last event was decorated with flower carts and penny-farthing bicycles lined with spring flowers along with coloured umbrellas to create the French spring atmosphere.

"It was terrific event," spokesperson Eric Forsyth said. "It's the best turnout we have ever had for the events. We had the Jukebox Junkies playing the tunes and no one left the dance floor."

While the club usually hosts its events at the Court House, a change in venue occurred due to Shaw Festival commitments. Forsyth said even though it's a different venue, St. Vincent de Paul was still the place to be, Forsyth said.

"People are dedicated to these dances," he said. "The dance in March was almost cancelled because of the snow-storm but members still came out to that. It's a great time for people to let their hair down and have a good time."

The 2008/2009 season begins October 25 with musical guest, 5th Avenue. For more information, visit www.niagarasupperclub.com.